

Patient Psychology Assessment Report

Date: May 9, 2026

Patient: John Doe

Psychologist: Dr. Jane Smith

Clinical Assessment

The patient presents with signs of generalized anxiety disorder.

Key symptoms include persistent worry about daily activities, difficulty concentrating, and sleep disturbances.

Cognitive-behavioral therapy CBT has been recommended as the primary treatment approach. The patient shows good motivation for treatment.

Follow-up sessions scheduled weekly for the next eight weeks.

Medication consultation suggested with psychiatry.